We like to take this opportunity to introduce you to what Collegeside.com, a web site catering to the needs of college students, can do for your organization.
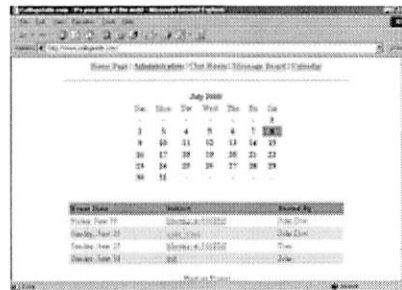

About CollegeSide.com

CollegeSide.com is a web site allowing college students and organizations to use the Internet to communicate with other students. CollegeSide.com provides free calendars, message boards, chat rooms, and other means of Internet communication free of charge to students and college organizations in exchange for advertisements.
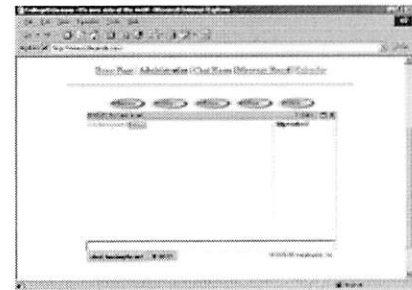

Our Free Services

CollegeSide.com currently has three main services to offer to your organization.

Message Board	Event Calendar	Chat Room

As the administrator, you will be able to edit and delete all postings made by the members of your organization with any web browser. With the wireless version of Collegeside.com due out next year, you and your organization will be able to communicate anywhere, anytime, on any devices such as palm computers and web-enabled cellular phones. For a live demo of all these services, visit our web site at www.Collegeside.com.

Try it

All these services are provided to you and your organization free of charge, so why not try it out and test it for yourself? Just fill out the online form and a section for your organization will be automatically created in minutes. Please email us at support@collegeside.com and we will be glad to assist you.

We Look Forward To Assisting You!

CollegeSide Virtual Office

Our Services

We have three main services to offer you. Although we have some suggestions on how they may be used you can use them however you wish, to the extent of your imagination.

Document Database

We'll scan in any documents you need to distribute to students such as a syllabus, assignments, and practice exams with answers. Using Adobe Acrobat your students can then retrieve the information from our web site and print it out. This saves you the trouble of making copies, and students may easily retrieve any papers they lose. A separate document database may be created for each of your classes with links to each one on your main virtual office page.

Calendar

We can build a calendar for a department page where we can also list the virtual offices for your department. It is easy to post events on the calendar, so you can keep it updated without our assistance.

Forum

This is the interactive part of the virtual office. The forum can serve as a message center between you and your students. This application requires no assistance from us to post messages. This is a good place to post miscellaneous information or discuss and answer questions about the class material. These discussions may be viewed by other students and may answer questions they have. Different forums can be created for each of your classes.

Bookstore

If you would like you can list the books required for your class on your virtual office and we can build a link directly to those books on Amazon, the online bookstore, where they may be purchased at a discount. Commissions from book sales is one way we receive revenue.

Managing the Site

We plan to maintain your virtual office indefinitely. You can maintain as much or as little contact with us as you like. We will update your virtual office document database or add any information to your site once a week during the weekend. All you need to do is leave the materials in a basket we'll place in your department office. We'll pick up the materials at noon each Friday, excluding those days when classes are not held. Also feel free to e-mail us with any other information or questions. We'll place an e-mail link to us on your virtual office to make this convenient. We'll check this e-mail address everyday.

Our Motives

We have received many questions about our motives regarding this free service and our website in general. We are attempting to build our website, CollegeSide, into an online community for students and faculty at UNO and Creighton by providing services like the virtual office. We are also a business and intend to make money through advertisements and e-commerce. Since we view virtual office strictly as an academic service, no ads will be placed on the virtual office site. Only the advertisement banner that is on our heading will appear. The virtual office is a free service because we want to draw students to other areas of our website. You are under no obligation to continue with the virtual office if you do not like it and we can take it off our site at anytime. No matter what the results of our project, we are willing and excited to do this for the experience and because we are having fun.

How to Begin

Simply let us know you'd like a virtual office (e-mail is fine but you can also call or meet us in person), and provide us with your name and information about the classes you'd like to link to your office, such as:

STAT-3010-001 Statistical Methods II

Then you can begin to leave any materials you want posted in our basket. For multiple classes please make sure they are properly marked so we know which class link to place them in.
On behalf of our student staff, we would like to offer your student clubs and organizations a free service called CollegeSide.com. CollegeSide.com is a web site that allows college students and organizations to use the Internet to communicate with other students. CollegeSide.com provides free calendars, message boards, chat rooms, and other means of Internet communication free of charge to students and college organizations in exchange for advertisements.

We have provided the following flyers for you to distribute to your student clubs and organizations. Feel free to make as many copies of these flyers as you would like. Thanks!

About CollegeSide.com

CollegeSide.com is a web site that allows college students and organizations to use the Internet to communicate with other students. CollegeSide.com provides free calendars, message boards, chat rooms, and other means of Internet communication free of charge to students and college organizations in exchange for advertisements. In addition, CollegeSide.com also offers other services to students such as the popular book exchange, webmail, and class evaluations.

Student Profile

CollegeSide.com receives over 25,000 hits and over 1,100 unique visitors per month. Demographic analysis shows primarily Creighton University and University of Nebraska at Omaha students as users of Collegeside.com.

Advertisement Offered

CollegeSide.com offers 233x30 banner ads and clickable text ads on the main page and 468x60 banner ads on all other pages. Rates are very affordable starting from $5.00 a month for 233x30 banner ad and clickable text ad to $15.00 a month for standard 468x60 banner ad. In addition, we would consider other marketing deals you might have. Visit our company web site at www.geospring.com for more information on our advertisement opportunities.

How to Begin

Simply let us know what you would like to do by emailing us at sales@geospring.com. You can also place the ad directly on our web site at www.geospring.com. You first need to create a client account. Your account will not be billed until you place the ad. Then simply enter the required ad information online and upload your banner. We will do the rest.
